BACKGROUND

The Melaka International Youth Dialogue (MIYD) is an annual programme of the World Assembly of Youth (WAY) which brings together young people, youth leaders and relevant stakeholders from around the world to discuss pertinent youth issues. Since 2001, the MIYD has convened on a wide range of tropical issues. The MIYD has witnessed an escalating number of youth participants over the years willing to participate in the decision making process. With the view of building a stronger partnership between the youth and the society, the MIYD produces a declaration which serves as a guideline for youth to address the selected issues.

INTRODUCTION

*"Older men declare war. But it is youth that must fight and die".
- Herbert Hoover, 1944 –*

For the past 14 years, MIYD has been focusing on several youth issues which directly or indirectly affect the daily lives of youth. This year the theme for the MIYD is on 'Youth and Armed Conflict: To Express Without A Fear, To Progress Without A Threat'. Armed conflict is defined as a contested incompatibility which concerns government and / or territory where the use of armed force between two parties, of which at least one is the government of a state.

Children and youth represent the majority of the population in most countries affected by armed conflicts and are thus disproportionately affected by war. Their suffering bears many faces - they are recruited as child soldiers, are killed and maimed, deprived of education and health care, and separated from their families. Sexual violence is increasingly a characteristic of conflict with detrimental long-term psychological effects on children and youth.

Where wars erupt, suffering and hardship invariably follow. Conflict is the breeding ground for mass violations of human rights including unlawful killings, torture, forced displacement and starvation. The fact that the issue of armed conflict has reached its epic point in recent days is the underlined reason of this year MIYD focusing on it taking into consideration that young people comprised half of the world population.

THEME

Henceforth, we have made it a point to focus on ‘Youth and Armed Conflict: To Express Without A Fear, To Progress Without A Threat’ as our theme for this year MIYD. This theme has been realized to fulfill the principal opinions and roles of young people towards combatting armed conflict and promoting sustainable conflict free environment. This 15th MIYD will emphasize in the attainment of the sustainable conflict free generation in which youth will be given opportunity to express and progress themselves free from fear and threat.

An interactive dialogue on this topic will be of significance to form, educate, increase awareness on the challenges and entitlements of youth in the different levels of society that they represent. Therefore, with the above anticipated theme, all participants present, such as: the young people, youth leaders, public and private sector officers, media persona and NGO / CSO representatives will gather to call for action and structure experience on the issue of Youth and Armed Conflict and chart a course towards its solution. The outcome document will also enhance youth contribution towards a better and sustainable future of a conflict free generation.

OBJECTIVES

During the dialogue all participants will gather to address and call for action on the following objectives:

- To raise an informative generation on the current situation of youth and armed conflicts with anticipated behaviour adaptation and consequently admission to decision making amongst youth;
- To foster youth action towards implementation of ideas brought forward by the young people for the benefit of the societies;
- To address the determinants and impact of armed conflicts amongst youth;
- To promote equality of opportunities and facilities between young men and women;
- To formulate the environmental, political, economic and cultural factors that are associated with peace building and disarmaments in ensuring young people’s right to live in harmony;
- To ascertain the obligations of society to respect, protect and fulfill the right of young people to live, express and improve themselves without fear and threat.
- To classify the role and the contribution of the national youth councils and other stakeholders towards improving and sustaining resourceful policies in combatting armed conflict and promoting sustainable conflict free environment;
- To form and advance the national, regional and international policies governing youth and their right to live in peace for the present and future;
